Plano Receives 250,000 Plant

Negotiations were completed Tuesday afternoon for a site to build a $250,000 plant to manufacture galvanized utility pole-line hardware at Plano.

President James H. Knowles of Hubbard & Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., signed final papers in Dallas Tuesday for the purchase of the 14-acre site inside the corporate limits of Plano.

He said construction will begin in about two weeks. The installation will include a warehouse area as well as a manufacturing plant and a hot-dip galvanizing facility.

The Plano plant is expected to be in production by July 1, and initially will employ about 50 persons. Knowles said he expects the force to be expanded to 100 persons shortly after. The $250,000 figure covers the cost of the buildings only.

Hubbard & Company is the world's largest manufacturer of utility pole-line hardware. The 113-year-old firm also makes railroad tools and supplies and aluminum accessories, including street light poles and brackets.

The company also operates factories at Pittsburgh, Chicago, Oakland, Calif. and Alton, Ill.

Knowles said the plant was located at Plano to better serve the market in this area. "This is, of course, the fastest-growing part of the country," he said.

He said Hubbard & Company had first considered locating its Southwestern plant in the Houston area. However, G. B. Richardson, vice-president of the Texas Power & Light Company, and George Marchmont, retired Dallas district manager and director of the Graybar Electric Company, Hubbard & Company's distributor here, interested them in a Dallas area location.

Assisting in completing the deal was Richard G. Robbins, vice president and general sales manager of Hubbard & Company.

The plant will be located in southeast Plano, south of and adjoing the Cotton Belt Railway.

Analysis Of Lavon Water Has Chemists' O. K.

A chemical analysis of the water in Lake Lavon has been made recently and a report shows it to be good for commercial and industrial use as well as for drinking purposes.

The Forrest & Cotton firm is handling the engineering work for the North Texas Municipal Water District, which includes ten towns, and to the City of Dallas.

The chemical content of available water is an important factor to many industries, and the towns using Lavon water will find it chemically satisfactory to any industry of the type which might locate around Dallas, the engineer said.

A report in the Forrest & Cotton files shows the following analysis of water samples from the lake, listed in parts per million parts; calcium, 67.9; magnesium, 4.7; sodium, 8.3; bacarbonates, 158.5; sulphates, 54.6; and chloride, 14.6.

In the same report, the water was termed by chemists "a little on the hard sid." Hardness of the Lavon water has been rated at 190.3 parts per million parts, but that can be reduced to about 100 p.m.m. when the water is treated at the filtration plant now under construction at Wylie.

The Forrest & Cotton engineer said that the hardness of the Lavon water is about average for the type of water used in most American cities.

The NTMWD pipeline system, a 59 million project, will supply Lavon water to the following member towns: Rockwall, Royse City, Farmersville, Wylie, McKinney, Plano, Mesquite, Forney, Princeton and Garland. Dallas is not a member of the water district but has contracted for Lavon water as a customer of the district.

Andrew P. Rollins of 2621 Patrice Drive, Garland, a former member of the State Board of Water Engineers, is manager of the NTMWD organization which maintains headquarters at Wylie.

J. C.'s Offer Fine Legislative Plan

Representatives of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce met with legislators who attended the Texas Legislature end establishing the annual wage for members of the Legislature.

Hudon Brown, county attorney and a past president of Midland Jaycees, was spokesman on the plan for his Junior Chamber, and was accompanied to Lufkin by Jim Allison, young publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

The resolution sponsored by the Midland group, which will be presented to the conventions at Amarillo and Waco. It also will be submitted to meetings at Beaumont and Del Rio.

If adopted by a majority of the three regional meetings — this seems assured—the project will be submitted for final adoption at the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce in Brownsville in April, and will be pushed to what the Jaycees hope will be a successful conclusion in the next session of the Legislature.

There are many arguments in favor of the annual session and annual wage for members of the Legislature. The Legislature now meets in regular session once each two years, and then is scheduled for only 120 days. This brief length of time results in legislative log jams in which much worthwhile legislation is lost and other legislation that is not so good passed.

In the limited space of four months the Legislature must appropriate millions of dollars for the cost of state government, and taxes need for the next two years.

It would seem all this might be accomplished more efficiently with annual sessions, but if members of the Legislature are to be asked to give a great portion of their time they should be paid adequate salaries.

We like in particular one paragraph of the Jaycee resolution which reads in part:

"... there is a demand on the part of the people to reverse the trend of recent years of centralization of governmental powers in Washington, and return those powers to the State, and it is the further desire that the legislatures of the states be equipped and qualified to handle such powers and duties as are returned to them which at present they are not so equipped to do because of such biennial session of our legislature and the meager pay for such posts now."

The Midland Jaycees are to be commended for taking a lead in this program, and the other Jaycees of Texas for their willingness to support this very excellent project.

American Bar Launches Drive For Members

The American Bar Association membership campaign got underway on Friday, February 10, to enroll during a week-long meeting of state and local bar leaders with all set up to double the size of their national organization.

The Fifth District of Texas which is composed of Collin, Grayson, Hunt, Rockwall, Kaufman, Ellis, Navarro, Hill, Bosque, Coryell, Bell, Falls, Limestone, Freestone, Anderson, Henderson, Van Zandt, Wood, Rains, Hopkins, Delta, Lamar, Red River counties is participating in the campaign. Chairmen in the districts are as follows:

Roland Boyd, McKinney, Fifth District chairman.

Jack Morgan, Kaufman, Fifth District Co-chairman.

A. M. Wofford, McKinney, Collin County chairman.

Rayburn Nall, Sherman, Grayson County, Chairman.

Allen Clark, Greenville, Hunt County chairman.

Bill Tolland, Rockwall, Rockwall County, chairman.

Thomas Crofts, Terrell, Kaufman County, chairman.

Gordon Wynne, Wills Point, Van Zandt County, chairman.

Wayne Justice, Athens, Henderson County, chairman.

Starting February 20, an estimated 10,000 lawyers — members of the American Bar Association will participate in a systematized nationwide series of interviews with other lawyers. The object is to enroll 50,000 new members of the ABA by February 17.

The unique project, without precedent among national professional organizations, was hailed by U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader, in a statement to Congress. Senator Johnson called attention to the ABA's record of public service in its 77-year history, and said the success of the "50,000 New Members" campaign would enable the association to widen its sphere of service to the public and the legal profession.

Four months of intensive preparation have gone into planning for the intensive one-week campaign effort. The entire country has been organized on a federal court circuit-state-county-city basis. Cecil E. Burney of Corpus Christi, Texas, chairman of the National Conference of Bar Presidents, an organization of presidents of state and local bar associations, is national chairman of the campaign.

In his statement to the Congress published in the Congressional Record, Senator Johnson said:

"The public, as well as the legal profession itself, has a direct interest in this project. The bar association — national, state and local — traditionally devote a large proportion of their time and energies to activities and services that are in the public interest and for the protection of the public. The maintenance of high standards of legal education, enforcement of justice, citizenship training programs, and civic activities of all kinds — all these and many other subjects are constantly the concerns of the organized bar.

"The Association is entirely non-partisan, and its recommendations as to legislation have frequently been invited by the Congress. It has performed many valuable services in providing Congressional committees with information and expert guidance in the drafting of legislation in many fields.

"In short, the American Bar Association has been the focal point through which the legal profession has discharged its professional responsibilities through the years. It seeks, through the present membership effort, to enlarge its resources and to perform all the tasks to which it has committed itself. The success of this membership campaign will result in future benefits both to the legal profession and to the American people."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunham Jr. and little daughter, Carol Malone, of Fort Worth, spent the week-end here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Erwin.

W. J. McHone was removed to his home on Board Street, Wednesday, from the City-County Hospital where he has been a patient some two weeks. His host of friends will be pleased that he is improving.

EDELWEISS CLUB ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Winter with its cold wind and streets was whistling through McKinney Friday afternoon, February 3, but it was spring, summer, and vacation time for the club women of McKinney and Collin County.

The Edelweiss Club, in its program concerning Community Affairs, presented Miss Marjorie Harker, Travel Consultant for the Union Pacific Railroad Company. Miss Harker's talk tailored for every woman who wants to travel, "You're Never Too Young or Too Old," not only delighted her audience with helpful tips, but was a personal example of resourcefulness in travelling. Arriving in Texas with weather so bad she might easily have looked for a dog team and sled, she arranged for transportation to McKinney, and arrived as she and unruffled as if blizzards were her daily fare.

One of Miss Harker's interesting travel tips was a basic hat which she had a designer work up. This could be made by any woman, carried, and changed with accessories to fit the occasion. Miss Jenkins, Mr. Farley Are Married

The recent marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Don Farley in Port Aransas is of interest in McKinney, the bride being the former Miss Lina Jenkins of McKinney. The couple were married in a double ring ceremony at the Community Presbyterian Church at Port Aransas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jenkins of McKinney, are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Farley of Port Aransas.

The Rev. Taft Lyons read the vows before an altar banked with arrangements of pink gladiolus. Mrs. Douglas Cole of Aransas Pass was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of pale pink crepe over pink taffeta. The fully shirred bodice was designed with brief cap sleeves and a wide decolletè neckline embroidered with tiny pearl flowers and iridescent sequins. The bodice joined a brilliant circular skirt.

She wore a contour-brim hat of pale pink satin trimmed with a small veil of imported silk illusion and carried a colonial bouquet of pale pink carnations tied with white satin and clustered with violets.

Miss Bob Lewis of McKinney was her sister's matron of honor. Her deep pink taffeta dress was fashioned with a long torso and a full circular skirt. Her accessories were pink and she carried a bouquet of pale orchid carnations.

Miss Donna Farley, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her dress of pale orchid taffeta was styled identically to that of the matron of honor. Her accessories were orchid and her bouquet was of orhid carnations.

Serving the groom as best man was Joe Tracy. Groomsmen were Johnny Martin Matthews and Dale Mircovich.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the church annex. The bride's table, covered with white linen, had for a centerpiece a green and white arch centered with silver wedding bells. Other decorations were of pink gladiolus and greenery.

The bride is a graduate of Boyd High School in McKinney from Aransas Pass High School.

The couple will be at home at Aransas Pass.

Willa Largent Club Plans Flower Show

The fourth annual flower show, to be given by the Willa Largent Garden Club, was the center of interest at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Charles Winniford. The Flower Show is to be held at the Jaycee Center on April 10 from 3 to 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Pat Clark, general chairman of the show, gave schedules to the members.

Chairmen of the various committees are:

Staging, Mrs. W. M. Benton Jr.
Entries, Mrs. James Cowan.
Classifications, Mrs. Frank Gurney and Mrs. Carl Cox.
Judges, Mrs. B. Z. McReynolds.
Publicity, Mrs. Al Rosenhaupt.
Properties, Mrs. Ernest Dowdy.
Hospitality, Mrs. Clyde Ball.
Clerks, Mrs. Charles Winniford.
Junior Exhibits, Mrs. Clyde Ball.
Educational exhibits, Mrs. Mel Davis.
Clear Up, Mrs. T. K. Long.

The program was given by a panel composed of Mrs. McReynolds, who spoke on live arrangements, Mrs. Cox whose subject was containers and horticulture specimens and Mrs. Si Gostin, who explained rules for the members.

Mrs. Reynolds reminded her audience that in making an arrangement one must keep in the mind the size of container and space it is to occupy. "Know your shape before you start. Make a skeleton outline, then fill in with your flowers. Avoid using too many colors. Big, bold blooms should be used for points of emphasis. Your arrangement must have good balance design. The tallest branch must be at least one and one-half times the height and width of container.

"Study your plants and know their needs," Mrs. Cox continued. Bring only distinctive plants to the show. Bigness of bloom does not necessarily mean a show winner. Petal formation and the stage of development are a few points the judges consider in selecting a blue ribbon winner.

Mrs. Gostin stated that color plays a very important part in each arrangement and should be classed from design in importance. From the three primary colors, many colors can be made. By adding white, tints are obtained; by the addition of grey, tones are developed and by the addition of black shades can be obtained. One color should dominate in your creation, with a contrast from light to dark flowing into each other.

After these discussions, arrangements were made by Mrs. McReynolds and Mrs. Clark, were judged. The club members were reminded of the district meeting in Fort Worth March 20.

Anthony Geer and M. L. Vermillion, of Anna, were recent business visitors, at Westminister.

Recent guests of the Rufus Short family, were Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Chesser, and daughter, Sharon, of Whitewright.

Celina Bobcats Defeat Wylie By Score 51-42

By FRED DICKINSON

The Celina High Bobcats got off to an early lead and held it all the way to defeat Wylie's Young Pirates, 51 to 42, in the first game of the county Class B boys' basketball championship, at Celina, Tuesday night.

Coach V. R. (Buddy) Smith's Orange and White team threw up an alert, tenacious, ball stealing defense to hold Wylie's powerful offense at a distance, while they broke through for enough points to win a close game that started out slow in the point making department and wound up in a whirl of baskets.

The two teams will meet in the second game of the two-out-of-three play-off series at Wylie, Thursday night. If a third game is necessary, it will be played at McKinney.

Officially, the play-off series is for the Championship of District 42-B of the Texas Interscholastic League with Wylie representing the East Zone and Celina the West Zone. The winners will meet the Howe Bulldogs for the bi-district title and the right to play in the Regional Class B meet at Southern Methodist University's Perkins gymnasium in Dallas.

Both teams went into Tuesday night's game with identical ten won and none lost records in conference play. For the overall season Wylie had won 21 and lost 4, while Wyle had won 21 and lost 6.

Kenneth Boren, a tall senior who has been an outstanding Celina athlete for four years, teamed with big Ray Pinion to lead the Bobcats in this win over the charges of Coach R. C. Dobb, who has brought his scrapping Pirates through their best season in years. Boren was the key cog in the Bobcats' slowly unraveling offense, while big Pinion turned in one of the best games of his career as he repeatedly stole the ball from the Wylie offense.

Boren' tree threw a little more than two minutes deep in the opening quarter put Celina out in front 3-2, a lead they never relinquished despite the valiant efforts of David McEuen, a bounding, hardworking Pirate guard, who got able assistance from Russell Clemmons, the pivot man, and John Hickman, sharpshooter who hit repeatedly from the corner to keep the Pirates in the game.

McEuen, who can really go high in the air for a young man of average height, repeatedly brought the ball into scoring position but his teammates had an off night in the shooting department and could not cash in on their opportunities.

In the meantime, Boren was able to shake loose under the Pirate basket on numerous occasions to take sharp passes from Pinion and Norris for lay-up shots that built up a commending lead by the end of the third quarter.

Boren has averaged 19 points to lead the Bobcats, this season, and he gained 21 Tuesday night to lead the point parade. For the Maroon and White Pirates, Clemmons the pivot man, was the top scorer with 15 points made with a fine turn shot from the circle. The high scoring youngsters had a bad night with a number of shots that just missed dropping in or this total would have been higher.

On defense, Pinion, Boren and Whitfield stood out for the losers, as did Louis Cave, an expert passer. For Wylie, the defense was highlighted by the work of McEuen, Jerry Cooper and a fiery substitute, Bennie Blakey.

Celina led at the half, 25-19.

The Pirates do not have a senior in their starting line-up. In fact, Blakey was the only senior performing, Tuesday night. Four of the starters are juniors and one a freshman.

In the B team game, the Pirates won by a comfortable 32-18 score with Ed Smith counting 9 points for high scoring honors.

Plano Presses Richardson Out Of District 12-A

Plano pressed Richardson out of District 12-A title contention at Richardson Tuesday night, 69-48, before the second capacity crowd ever to gather here on a basketball game.

Only Plano and Duncanville are still in the running for the crown. Plano leads with a 10-1 won-lost record of 9-2 for Duncanville, but the Panthers get the chance to tie it up Thursday night at Midlothian.

Coach Randall Herman's Eagles finished the season with a 9-3 mark, a record that insures them of no worse than third in the final standings and a possible tie for second. Richardson filled its gym last Saturday night for the first time and rewarded the gathering with a 57-56 upset over Duncanville.

But Plano's frusterating half-court press assured this capacity crowd they were in for no seconds. The Wildcats grabbed a 4-0 lead before Richardson scored and led by 16-9 at the half.

Richardson staged a couple of rallie that cut Plano's advantage to 36-26 early in the third and 47-35 late in the same period. But the smooth Wildcats usually led by upwards of 20 points as big Dayle Braden gave them a tremendous advantage in rebounds.

Top scorer Tommy Shields didn't get into the game due to a severe cold, but the well-rounded Wildcats took up the slack with no apparently loss of efficiency. Lewis Allman hit 18, Braden 17, Sam Shields 16 and Don Gunn — Tommy's replacement — 12.

Alla boys and girls closed out their 42B district season last night at Frisco as the local fems slipped past Frisco gals 42 to 39 and the Alla boys blasted to a 45 to 40 victory.

In the powder-puff opener, Alla see-sawed back and forth with the ball, never quite finding the range until the last stanza. Plano Routs Rockwall To Hold Lead, 91 To 37

Tommy Shields, who played in the second basketball game he ever saw, hit 12 of his 17 field goal attempts to lead Plano to a 91-37 District 12-A basketball victory over Rockwall Friday night, at Plano.

Just two games remain on the Wildcats' schedule as they pushed their district mark to nine victories and one loss. For the Yellow Jacket it was their eighth — and most pronounced — loss without a victory.

Rockwall made a game of it for the first three minutes before Shields and Doyle Braden pushed the roof in. The Jackets led, 5-4 three minutes deep in the game before Shields hit a pair of free throws to put the home team ahead for keeps.

Braden scored 20 points the first half and Shields had 16 as Plano piled up a 64-14 lead. But Tommy scored six baskets without a miss in five minutes. Braden swelled his total to 23 before retiring late in the third too.

They weren't missed by either team.

The Plano reserves took over in the fourth and outscored Rockwall 18-15. Robert Walker, one of a seemingly endless line of Plano sharpshooters, connected on four of five attempts in the last period.

Plano scored 23 baskets on 74 shots, a percentage of 45.9. The Yellow Jackets his slightly better than 30 per cent, with 13 baskets and 64 shots.

Tommy and his brother Sam another Plano starter, moved to Plano from a small comunity near Childress a few seasons ago. They went out for basketball, sat on the bench through one game and got into action in a B team game the next night.

Comparing his team with the Plano five they went to the state semifinals in 1955, Coach Red Massey said before the game:

"I think we're just about as strong. Of course, we lost our top scorer and best rebounder."

Neither loss was of staggering proportions Friday night.

WESTMINSTER DIAL TELEPHONE SERVICE BEGINS

Telephone service was brought to Westminster on January 31 in a brief ceremony attended by Mayor L. W. Clark of Westminster, Mayor M. L. Vermillion and A. J. Geer of Anna, and Don Bell and Jack Valentine of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company of McKinney. Changeover from the existing manual magneto telephones to modern dial units was made at 3:00 p.m.

The changeover followed by exactly one month Bell's purchase of the Westminster Telephone Company from Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fortner of Westminster. Telephone construction forces built all new pole lines in the Westminster area and added to the circuits connecting Westminster and Anna to provide the service. Under the arrangements Westminster and Anna telephone subscribers may place local calls direct by dialing between the two areas.

With the change to dial service Westminster customers may now dial almost 200 other telephones in and around Anna.

"The conversion to dial service went smoothly," Don Bell, who was in charge of installation of telephone and change over to dial, stated.

Installation of the dial system at Westminster makes seven towns in Collin County, served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, which have this type of phone service. On April 1 the system will go into operation at Celina, and Allen will also have dail phone service within a few months. Other towns already enjoying the service in the county are McKinney, Princeton, Farmersville, Frisco, Prosper and Anna.

Allen Wins Thriller Over Melissa Team

A field goal in the last 5 seconds by Don Brazeal gave the Allen boys a thrilling 46 to 54 victory over the fast-breaking Melissa Cardinals Tuesday night at Melissa.

The game was the second part of a double-header that saw the league-leading Allen girls team cop the opener by a relatively easy 66 to 39 victory. Johnson of Melissa was high point girl of the night with 19 points followed closely by Moseley and Dugger of Allen, who each scored 18 points.

Leading at half time 36 to 9 Allen's Coach Max Vaughn gave his reserves quite a bit of action in the selond half. The final score in the contest was Allen 66 to Melissa 39.

The nightcap between the boys was a triller right to the final buzzer, with the lead changing hands numerous times during the contest. The fast-breaking offense used by the Cardinals kept the taller Allen team in hot water most of the night. Spear-headed by C. D. Cave and W. G. Cave, who each scored 14 points, the Melissa team kept the outcome in doubt almost to the final second when Brazeal sank the winning field goal from near mid court.

Allen led by a slight 27 to 26 margin at the half time and pulled away to what seemed to be a comfortable 48-39 lead early in the fourth quarter. Then with the fans roaring a deafening approval, the Cardinals caught fire and raced to a 54 to 53 lead with less than a minute to go.

Davidson, Allen center, who was high point man for the game with 18 points, quickly tied the score at 54-all with a free throw. This set the stage for Brazeal's long shot that swished the net as the clock ran out thus giving Allen the hard fought 56 to 54 victory.

UNPROTECTED TERRACE OUTLET

Large gully gradually eating back established and managed waterway into cropland and increasing silt will prevent this type of damage load of streams. A well-planned.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS — of — THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

There is only one time, or season, to plan waterways for safe outlet, each year that can be referred to as "the right time" to establish plan to terrace their land during grassed waterways that time is the next few years are encouraged upon us now. It is possible to plan to establish their waterways now waterways for a terrace system etc. Soil Conservation Service technicians even to stake off the exact location. Districts at McKinney are glad to assist of waterways, any time during the [illegible] planning water way systems and year. However when it comes to [illegible] staking off their exact locations planting that important strip of [illegible] in the field.

grass experience has proved that [illegible] February and March are the best months.

Many farmers throughout Collin Soil Conservation District who established good waterways last year, have stated that a good seedbed is a necessity for planting Bermudagrass. Freshly dug roots of springs should be dropped into well prepared soil whenever there is sufficient moisture. Most people prefer to bed their land, plant in the middles, cover the roots in the bedding and then harrow the land level. From 30 to 40 cubic feet of Bermuda roots are usually planted to the acre.

Whenever they plant a waterway most landowners like to see a good cover of grass develop the first year, rather than wait two or three years for a good waterway. Their agent experience has shown that newly planted grass usually responds fertilizer in only [illegible] grass dense cover. Most blackland soils are deficient in nitrogen and phosphorus and these plant food elements should be added. Apply approximately 80 to 40 pounds per acre of nitrogen and the [illegible] phosphorus is the common [illegible] ing recommendation for Bermuda grass.

Soil Conservation Service technicians from McKinney have assisted landowners so far this year in [illegible] 100 waterways so far this year. Most of these will be seeded during the next two months. Bermuda roots can be obtained from several sources in Denton County. Approximately $10 per acre assistance from the ASC office can be drawn by farmers on the cost of seeding or sodding grass this year. Application for this payments should be made direct to that office before work is done.

Among those cooperators of the Collin Soil Conservation District who seeded waterways during the spring and were able to [illegible] terraces on them before the end of the year were Murphy Lee, Cottage Hill; Vance Powell, Anna; A. E. McGraw at Culleoka; E. R. Mitchell at Alvarado; Phillips and Parsen at Bloomdale; W. V. Miller at Climax; H. H. Compton Estate at Allen.

John Wells, Chairman of the Collin Soil Conservation District, has often stated that the lack of good grassed waterways is the real bottleneck to terracing much of our valuable but eroding cropland. Landowners will be able to do more terracing only after they have established spell and you may get out your garden tools. Look for an early spring, but keep in mind too, that we usually have a frost that kills tender plants up to April 1st. This late frost holds our farmers back a month in planting. If I were a farmer I would plant corn this year by the last week in this month. Fingers crossed.

Survey To Be Made Here By Department Of Agriculture

Postmaster Don Davis put up a town and I mean red and blue. I think Don said we have fourteen boxes in the city, we could make use of twice that many. Most of the newer additions to the boxes suits at all right now.

Anybody hear that tremendous clap of thunder about 5:45 on the morning of Wednesday, the sixteenth? Most thunder, this one was, but continued to roll on for five minutes. Never heard anything exactly like it before. The cause we were surrounded by a rather heavy rain on all sides, and the noise couldn't get out. It echoed and re-echoed back and forth from the clouds to the ground, and from rainstorm to rainstorm.

Several traffic jams on the square Saturday, but city policemen were not involved as a rule. The trouble comes at the corners where somebody waits for the light to turn blue before making a right turn. You have to do this. If there is no room coming through the green light and make the turn. This happens to when there are no pedestrians to block the street, as there are when the light you face turns to green. I saw car after car Black traffic behind Saturday while waiting for the people to cross the street after the light switched to green. Come to a stop, and turn on red.

Had to put fire the other morning and my 12 year old girl had to walk the 200 yards over a considerable to junior high. Sure was cold, and I blame myself, for I should have gone out and had the youngest and the car all warmed up. Dad blame it! A father can't think of everything.

Letter from a young lady who doesn't want her name known, because she is using the information in school. She asks who was a soldier in Collin County, and the county was full of them. I have given one, though, of whom much has been written. Josiah Nichols was born in Mississippi and came to Collin in 1846. Joined Captain Stapp's company at old Buckner that year and was in Mexican war. He then served under Captain Fitzhugh on the plains, fighting Indians. Married Nora Fitzhugh's daughter. Elizabeth, two miles southeast of Melissa in 1847. She and Josiah then settled four miles East of Melissa and went on the have nine children. Josiah was in the Civil War, 1862-'65, and was Justice of the Peace, Sheriff, tax assessor and collector of the county later.

Also a letter from a lady in Kansas wanting to know if Isaac and Albert Graves were the same person, Nope. For those who may care to know, they came here the same year, 1857, and located northwest of McKinney. A. G. Graves had twelve children, of which A. S. Wick, Mrs. F. M. (Tucky) Hill, Mrs. J. G. Hedgecoxe, Mrs. W. C. Nichols, Mrs. W. R. Bush and Mrs. Maggie Taylor were well known in this vicinity.

Occasionally I have to see the superintendent of public instruction in McKinney, Supt. Hallds Pearce. Don't know how you have found Superintendent Pearce, but he appeals to me as a man who knows exactly what he is up to, and when you ask him anything he either gives you a flat yes or a decided no; and no humming, hawing, hedging or hawking about it. Maybe anybody who heads a school system likes ours arrived there along the road that is paved with instant decisions, I don't know.

Plentiful Dry Beans Offer Good Nutrition and Good Eating . . .

Hearty winter appetites call for good nourishing meals. For economy, plus flavor and nutrition — dried beans have a lot to offer.

A serving of home-cooked beans cost about two cents. From the can it costs about 10 cents. Either way beans are a cheap source of calorie, vegetable protein, iron, thiamine, and riboflavin.

Dry beans can be used as a meat substitute for some family meals, especially if combined with another protein food that comes from an animal source. Such foods include milk, eggs and cheese.

Make the most of plentiful dry beans to help keep food costs low and nutritive values high.

Perfection For Pork Chops . . .

At today's prices it's hard to beat pork for economy and good nourishment. Pork, like other lean meats, provides high quality protein as well as iron and niacin. It is especially important as a source of vitamin B1 or thiamine.

Pork does require very thorough cooking. The secret of proper cookery is not to dry it out. Being sure it is completely cooked. Braising, or cooking by moist heat, is the perfect solution for cooking pork chops and steaks.

It's easy to do — simply season chops with salt and pepper. Flour or bread if desired and brown slowly on both sides. Add a small amount of liquid. This may be water, orange, pineapple or apple juice, tomato juice or sauce or other fruit juice. Cover pan tightly and simmer on top of range or oven slow, 350 degrees F. Brown, and meat is tender. More liquid may be added as needed.

Pork spare ribs, tenderloin fillets, or whole tenderloin are also delicious when braised. The moist heat and low temperature makes for juicy, tender meat.

"THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLLIN COUNTY"

▶ THOUSANDS OF dollars damage was done to our streets in McKinney recently on account of the snow and freezing weather. Before the "snows" came our streets were in a deplorable condition but now they are still worse. It takes a lot of money to keep them in repairs. As we have often stated in this column, we should make a survey to determine how much money it will take to have a complete rebuilding of our streets in McKinney, naming the ones to be rebuilt, repaired and a report made to the citizenship. It it takes a Bond issue, present it to the people for approval or rejection. Streets are an important item in community progress.

▶ POLITICS IS getting on the move in Collin County with several new candidates having announced lately. Only one way to know whether you can win and that is to throw your hat in the ring. There has got to be a winner, Dear Candidates.

▶ FARMERS, Stockmen and merchants are happy over the recent rains and snow. Means a good grain crop and will put our good old Collin County land in tip-top shape.

▶ YOUR HOME Towners, along with many other newspaper folks, will oppose the Federal Government "messing" in our road program. In Texas we have one of the finest Highway Departments in the United States and when they build roads we get our money's worth. Why in the name of good common horse sense can't the Federal Government give us the two cents back that we pay for tax on Gasoline and then we could build more roads—and better ones. But first let's run our own Highway road program in Texas. Our own Highway Department can DO IT BETTER and CHEAPER.

Mrs. Lurline Daspit, County Home Demonstration Agent, was in Kaufman Monday attending a Nutrition School.

Texas Research Foundation Stresses Hubam Clover

Approach of the February planting season in Texas finds many farm workers and farmers recommending Hubam clover as a dependable soil improving crop that works profitably with cotton, corn, wheat and maize in 3 to 5-year rotations.

Texas Research Foundation officers at Renner, in common with other professional farm workers, are stressing Hubam's soil improving ability over its value as a cash crop.

"Performance records of crops following Hubam during the twenty years since Hubam was introduced in this region leave little doubt in anyone's mind as to Hubam's value as a standard crop in modern farming systems" Fred M. Shaw, head of the Foundation's agricultural relations division, said.

"Foundation experiments during the last twelve years, moreover, have confirmed fully the beneficial effects Hubam clover has on the soil.

Seed are plentiful, he added, and present farming conditions brought on by drought's effect on small grain have made thousands of acres available for the planting of Hubam during February and March.

John D. Wells of Plano, a supervisor of the Collin Soil Conservation District, also saw February as "a good time to take advantage of Hubam's soil building power." He said February 15 to March 14 was the ideal planting time, although the crop could be put in as late as April 15. He, like Mr. Shaw, minimized Hubam's value as a cash crop in proportion to its value as a soil builder.

"We've made a mistake in the past by selling farmers on the cash crop aspect of Hubam. We should have stressed the 3-year carryover benefit of Hubam for other crops" Mr. Wells continued.

John Hagan and J. M. Norton, work unit conservationists at Plano and McKinney respectively, reported to many farmers in their territories were planning to put substantial acreage in Hubam during February and March.

Farmers themselves are enthusiastic about Hubam, both as a soil-improving and as a cash crop. Dewey Wiser, whose farm is four miles west of Plano, harvests the crop, follows it with cotton and then sows Hubam. has been a standard crop in his family since the late thirties.

He estimates the 3-year rotation gives him a 25 per cent increase in cotton and a 40 per cent increase in grain yield. "Last year," he said, "I made 84 bushels of yellow corn to the acre on 16 acres following cotton after Hubam."

Conner Harrington, who has planted Hubam for the last seven years, uses the clover as a cash crop on his farm 7½ miles northwest of Plano. He has no definite system, but tries to have one-third of his land in Hubam. One-third in maize and the remaining third in wheat each year.

"I've always had good luck" he said. "Hubam has paid as much as any other cash crop. Also, it increases the yields of following crop from one-fourth to one-third."

Clifton Haggard has been getting good results by following a mixture of Hubam and wheat with corn on his farm 10 miles northwest of Plano in the thin soil region. On his thinnest soil, however, he turns the Hubam under as green manure.

"I've been planting Hubam since the late thirties. I can see an increase in soil fertility for three years after a Hubam crop. For that reason I try to rotate all my land every four years" he said.

"Hubam will pay for itself, especially during wet years, and will increase substantially the yields of cotton, corn, wheat, maize, oats and other crops planted after it."

C. G. does not use Hubam basically as a cash crop on his farm at Rhea's Mill. "I've been growing Hubam for five years, and I've found it one of the greatest soil-building crops we have in the blacklands, Mr. Furr said.

"I use it in a 4-year rotation with crop, cotton and wheat. It pentrates deeply into the soil and breaks hardpan. After harvest, I work the stalks into the soil."

At Weston, L. A. Billings said he has grown Hubam since 1947 and has had noticed that its benefit to the soil affected following crops for two or three years. "Hubam is about as good a cash crop as any other" he observed. "And clover land holds up longer in a drouth than any other land." He reported a one-third increase in cotton yield during a dry year on land when Hubam has been turned under.

At Renner, Mr. Shaw said that the experiences of these Collin County farmers with Hubam "are typical of the results obtained by farmers in all section of the blacklands."

"Farmers who are planning to put in Hubam acreages in February will be repaid amply by the increases in yields of crops they put on those same acreages the following year" Mr. Shaw concluded.
